Laliberte, Ron F.
- University Extension Press, Saskatoon. [0-88880-411-3] 2000. (Wrappers) As new. xvi, 588pp. "Expressions in Canadian Native Studies is designed to provide an overview of Native Studies in contemporary Canada. The papers discuss many different Nations and range from the local, such as F. Laurie Barron and Joseph Garcea's "Reflections on Urban Reserves in Saskatchewan"; to the national, such as Bonita Lawrence's "Mixed-Race Urban Native People"; to the international, such as Priscilla Settee's "The Issue of Biodiversity, Intellectual Property Rights, and Indigenous Rights." the essays also provide diverse perspectives on important issues in Native Studies, such as Ron Bourgeault and Tom Flanagan's antithetical takes on the Louis Riel debate, or Joyce Green and Margaret A. Jackson's differing studies of the relationships between Aboriginal women's organizations and the self-government movement. The text also includes maps, excerpts of relevant government documents, and a glossary of terms. While the book is intended as a textbook for Native Studies courses-the critical reading and writing guides will be of primary value to students-it will also be of interest to scholars and more general audiences" Judith Legatt.

approximately 250 Métis men took up arms to fight for their rights against an oppressive political regime. In this timely monograph, Lawrence J. Barkwell documents the Métis resistance in 1885 and the South Branch Métis Settlement's military and political structures. Besides methodically listing all the Métis participants in the 1885 Resistance, this useful genealogical resource also documents the Métis heroines of Batoche as well as the First Nations and Euro-Canadians who rallied to the Métis cause. Perhaps most importantly, this monograph provides a tangible link between contemporary Métis community people and their ancestors who desperately fought to preserve their way of life so long ago."

 [Northwest Rebellion]. Gowanlock, Theresa; Delaney, Theresa Times Office, Parkdale. 1885. (Hardcover) Very good plus. 136 + 3p adverts in rear. Frontispiece, illus. Parts 1 & 2 in one volume (as issued). Cloth with gilt. Two copies in red cloth, one in green with table of contents of volume one in rear before adverts. Peel(3) 1457 describes the 141 page edition. Graf 1605 describes this 136 page edition and speculates that the larger edition is an earlier printing. Ayer (supplement) 60 cites the 141 page edition. The two women were the sole survivors of the Frog Lake massacre in Saskatchewan in 1885 during the Riel insurrection. They were held captive two months.

- #107 696 A History of Riel's Second Rebellion and How It Was Quelled [Northwest Rebellion]. Haultain, Theodore Arnold Grip Printing and Publishing Co., Toronto. 1885. (Wrappers) Very good. 44pp. Folio. Illus., ports. An extremely fragile publication done on newsprint and rarely found in anything approaching acceptable condition. This copy is about as good as it gets, in spite of the fact that many pages have torn at the creases in Part 2. Of the dozen or more sets of this that I have seen in over thirty years, only three contained the centre four pages with the coloured stone litho of Middleton and commanding officers. Alas, this one does not. This accounts for the comment in Peel(3) 1461 alluding to errors in page numbers. In fact, PP 12-15 are missing here as usual.
